Principally Speaking

Dear Stakeholders of Homewood-Flossmoor Community High School: As we have concluded a successful 2010/11 school year, I thought sharing some of the academic accolades of our graduating class would be appropriate. On Sunday, June 5, we had 638 students walk in our 52nd annual commencement. Thank you to our senior class and our seniors' families for their commitment to H-F and for everything they have done to bring fame to our academic institution. Have a great summer!

— Ryan Pitcock, Ph.D., Principal

THE VIKING VIEW

The next time you walk the main path between the campus' North and South buildings you will be greeted by an installation of four sculptures that were the product of two classes working together last year: 3D Studio 1 and Welding Fabrication. Moving in the Right Direction is a metaphor for the Homewood-Flossmoor High School experience.

The students — Douglas Carpenter, Jacob Cingano, Kyle Coleman, Eileen Condon, Tiffany Cox, Amy Donkel, Kymberly Grell, William Grasse, Robert Hannah, Jay Hughes, Kelsey Kresach, Adam Lundquist, Kayla Rankin, Steven Rinearson, Lena Schmidt, Jordan Taylor, Ahyanna Tolbert, Danielle Werner and Marissa Werner — used Alberto Giacometti's figurative sculptures as inspiration.
