August 17, 2017

Dear Homewood-Flossmoor Parents and Guardians,

Welcome to the 2017-18 school year! Now it feels like school is really in session! The students returned today and added all the pizzazz. It's great to see them! Because we have a Solar Eclipse coming up next Monday, you are receiving my first letter of the school year.

On Monday, August 21st, there will be a solar eclipse that will begin at approximately 11:54 a.m. and will continue until approximately 2:54 p.m. During the eclipse, school will be in session and we will be operating on a regular schedule. Students will be passing between the North and South Buildings throughout the day. An official designated viewing opportunity of the solar eclipse will not be provided.

It is important during the eclipse that students exercise caution and adhere to safety guidelines so as to not permanently damage their eyes. This message will also be reinforced at school. In summation, students should not look directly into the sun at any point during the eclipse. For more in depth safety guidelines, you may access information at the following web address:

Thank you for discussing these safety guidelines with your child.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jerry Lee Anderson, Principal
